Christmas cards of the College of William and Mary which were sponsored by the College last season and sold to students and faculty will be handled this season through the Wigwam. Because of a shortage of paper there will be only 1,000 of the regular cards available and 1,500 with the Army Insignia. The Wigwam asks that orders be placed as soon as possible.

There will be a review of the A.S.T. Unit Wednesday evening, October 18, at 6:45 P. M. on the baseball field. This review is in honor of Mayor Channing M. Hall and the City Council. All members of the student body and faculty are invited to attend.

The Honors Convocation, originally scheduled for October 20, at 10 A. M., has been postponed. Phi Beta Kappa Hall will be needed in the mornings and afternoons of October 18, 19, and 20, for examinations to be taken by all cadets in the A. S. T. Unit. The new date for the convocation will be announced soon. An advantage of this postponement will be that vacancies among the officers of student government may be filled in time for the Honors Convocation.

Auditions will be held for parts in productions of the William and Mary Theatre for the current year in the Wren Building on Thursday afternoon, October 14, from 3 to 5; Friday, October 15, from 4:30 to 6, and Monday, October 18, from 7:30 to 9.

Students must make their appointments on Wednesday, October 13, from 10 to 11, or 1 to 2:30, and get audition material.

Jan Veen And His Players, With Erika Thimey, Tour Va.; To Perform At College of William and Mary October 19

Jan Veen, who will appear with Erika Thimey in a "Program of Theater Dance" in the Phi Beta Kappa Auditorium on Tuesday, October 19, at 8 P. M., has had an exciting career. Born in Vienna, he had already begun the musical study which was to fit him for his dancing career when the first World War broke out. Having entered upon a dancing career, he was soon recognized as one of the leading young artists of Europe. In Shanghai, he worked as a student of oriental dance and as a teacher in his own studio.

Mr. Veen's reputation soon spread to the United States, and he was invited by S. Hurok to undertake a tour which was to be the first exposition of modern dance in this country. His opening performance was given in New York. This produced such a demand for instruction that he was invited by the manager of the Hotel Barbi- zion to open a studio in that hotel.

Jan Veen has danced and lectured at many of the eastern colleges, among them Skidmore, Dartmouth, and Ratchiffe, and his studio of the Dance in Boston is the largest of its kind in the United States. Mr. Veen gives a course of dance at the Boston Conservatory of Music and at the Leland Powers School of the Theatre. One of his most notable achievements is his career with the Boston Symphony Pops.

Jan Veen's partner, Erika Thimey, was dancing, teaching, and producing in Chicago when he met her. She had been solo dancer with the Opera at Dessau, from

6 Men Organize Student Body Elections October 26; Local Fraternity To Fill Government, Assembly Offices

Last week, on October 4, in order to carry on in some capacity where the fraternities left off, a new local social club, Phi Delta Pi, was founded by six William and Mary men, Harvey Pope, Bill Albert, Pete Quynn, Red Wood, Dick Goodman, and Charles Meeks.

This local Greek letter organization hopes to carry on the activities that the former national fraternities on campus have suspended for the duration, such as intramurals, dances, serenades, and general fellowship.

The cost of membership will be held down to a minimum, and with the approval of the President of the College, both fraternity and non-fraternity men will be taken in. Pledging has already started.

The officers of Phi Delta Pi are: Harvey Pope, President; Bill Albert, Vice-President; Pete Quynn, Secretary; Red Wood, Treasurer; Dick Goodman, Rush Chairman; and Charles Meeks, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Men in the Army Specialized Training Unit will stage a military ball on Saturday evening, October 16. Because of the nature of the program, this dance will be limited to military personnel. Civilian students and their guests will dance in the foyer of Phi Beta Kappa from 9 until 12 o'clock on Saturday evening, October 16.

New Liberty Ship Launched; Honors Former W-M President

Lyon G. Tyler, the new Liberty ship, was christened Sunday, October 10, by Mrs. John M. Drewry at the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyard in Baltimore.

Mrs. John M. Drewry, granddaughter of President Tyler, is the daughter of Dr. James Southall Wilson of the University of Virginia. Both are alumni of the College of William and Mary, and Dr. Wilson is the author of the Alma Mater.

Lyon G. Tyler, for whom the ship was named, was president of the College of William and Mary for 32 years, and, at the time of his death in 1933, president-emeritus. He was the son of President John Tyler.

Mrs. Lyon G. Tyler of "Lion's Den," Holdcroft, Va., and her sons attended the launching.

Unlike naval vessels, which are usually named after states, cities, or war heroes, Liberty ships are named for famous Americans who have distinguished themselves in the field of letters and cultural pursuits.

Two Liberty ships have been named after William and Mary presidents. The other, James Blair, was named after the founder and first president of the College. His name was selected from a list of famous people submitted by the Library of Congress.

J. E. Nuquist Joins Faculty

Finds Restoration Place Of Beauty

By NANCY GRUBE

Mr. Joseph E. Nuquist, who hails from the great Indian territory out west in Nebraska, has joined another Indian reservation—namely, the College of William and Mary, where he is Acting Assistant Professor in the departments of Economics and Business Administration.

Mr. Nuquist is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he received both his A.B. and M.A. degrees, taking the former in Economics and his graduate degree in Sociology. Previously he taught at the University of Minnesota and also for some time in Sioux Falls College in South Dakota. For the past three years, Mr. Nuquist has studied at the University of Wisconsin where he did considerable research both in Economics and Sociology. He has done writing in both of these fields.

In his usual calm and collected manner, Mr. Nuquist sat at his desk and cleaned his glasses as he told about his pet hobby, astronomy. He devotes much of his leisure time to this interest.

This tall, dark, and reserved gentleman has become well-known to the students in the few weeks he has been here. At present he resides at the home of Dr. Wagener. Having heard a lot about the Restoration of Williamsburg, Mr. Nuquist was anxious to see it. He seems to have a keen interest in seeing the town and campus.

When asked if he noticed any marked difference between the western colleges and those in this area, Mr. Nuquist remarked that the schools around here are definitely much better endowed and kept in better condition.

The new professor is conducting classes in Economics and Statistics.

A.S.T.U. Announces Military Dance Sat.

Headquarters of the A.S.T.U. has officially announced the Military Ball to be held at Blow Gymnasium next Saturday evening. It is to be strictly an Army affair, including only Cadets and their dates. Refreshments will be served and the music will be supplied by the Army Orchestra which students have enjoyed for the past two Saturday dances.

Candidates Present Petitions Tuesday

Petitions for student body officers must be presented at the office of the Dean of Men not later than noon Tuesday, October 19. Elections to fill the nine vacancies for Student Assembly representatives, the office of President of the Student Body, and five vacancies on the Men's Honor Council will be held Tuesday, October 26, the Committee on Elections announced after a recent meeting.

The Assembly vacancies are: three senior men, one junior woman, two junior men, and three sophomore men. Two senior men, two junior men, and one sophomore man must be chosen for the Men's Honor Council.

The Constitution of the Student Assembly states: "Students shall make known their candidacy for office by petitioning the Committee on Elections, each petition to bear eleven signatures, including the signature of the nominee." Qualifications for office are: "A candidate must be a bona fide member of the class which he seeks to represent. A candidate for any office other than that of President of the Student Body must have maintained during the semester preceding the semester in which the election is held a quality point average at least as high as the average for the entire student body." A senior must hold the office. The Constitution was amended last spring so that a senior woman may now be elected.

At a meeting of the Senate with Dr. Armacost last Friday, it was

Wams Meet Wed.; Plan War Work

The Wam Corps, consisting of five hundred and five co-eds, is all out to promote the war effort.

An important mass meeting of the Wams will be held in Washington 200 at 7:30 Wednesday night. Mrs. Plowe from the Williamsburg U.S.O. will be present to discuss plans with the members who have signed up for the U.S.O. war activity work.

To make the Wam Corps really complete, there must be a Wam song. Therefore, a contest is being sponsored in which all members are eligible to write a song. All entries must be put in a box placed at the War Headquarters in the college Wigwam before Wednesday noon. A prize of two dollars in war stamps will be given to the winner. No original music is necessary, but a familiar or popular tune should be used, with short, snappy words. The most suitable song will be chosen by members of the War Council.

Plans have been made for dances to be held for the Chaplains and their Aides in the forthcoming weeks. A Stamp Stomp in the form of an informal dance is also being considered to promote a War Bond drive.

JAN VEEN AND ERIKA THIMEY

which work she was invited to join the Dance Department of the Chicago North Shore Institute of Music. At Mr. Veen's invitation, she came to his studio in Boston to be his associate teacher and to build up a concert program with him.

Veen and His Dancers are giving a program of light, gay dance at army camps and clubs. They have performed at benefit concerts for the British War Relief and the Fighting French War Relief. They have, however, been able to arrange a tour of Virginia, during which Mr. Veen and Miss Thimey will come to William and Mary. The program will include a variety of numbers. Musical settings are by such composers as Strauss, Debussy, Dreisler, Gershwin, Bizet, and Dvorak.

Season tickets admitting holders to all events in the William and Mary Concert Series will be on sale through Oct. 19, although admission to the dance concert may be purchased at the door on the night of performance. Season tickets for the faculty and general public are $3.50, for the students of the College, $2.20. Single tickets for faculty and general public are $1.00, for students of the College, 50 cents.

Tribunal Brings Culprits To Justice As Sophomores Mete Out Penalties

Nineteen Offenders Come To Court,
Freer Presides; Wood Prosecutes

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN

Attention, freshmen! Hear ye, hear ye, hear ye; heavy, heavy hangs over thy heads; as witness the night of October 7 at 8 o'clock (20:00 to Army-Navy sympathizers). Within the ancient and venerable portals of Phi Beta Kappa Hall functioned that famous institution, the Freshman Tribunal, a veritable pulse of college life.

Chief Justice Jan Freer presided over the court session as Prosecutor Red Wood lashed away at the culprits. Sammy Banks officiated as clerk. The noble jury was made up of the following loyal, unprejudiced, and extremely interested citizens: Marge Retzke, Jean Beasley, Pam Pauley, Glo Rankin, Bill Albert, Jerry Hyman, and Bill Wartell. The jury, in their determination to see justice done, were all of one mind—just whose mind it was has not been decided and obviously cannot be discussed here.

For the various criminal offenses well-known to all, many typical and well-deserved penalties were meted out, adding much to the discomfort of the offenders and the discomfort (there were several cases of sidesplitting) of the audience. P. D. Reynolds demonstrated his ability as a beauty expert. We would like to see his recommendations. He spent much of his time until Saturday brushing up on dribbling down a basketball, also. Nancy Keane gave a sneak preview of what the women will have to say in 1944—Leap Year, as if you didn't know. Honeysuckle Saunders was the man on the receiving end. Bonnie Watson reverted to the Wild West, or reasonable facsimile, and at intervals gave startling performances of the Lone Ranger and Silver at college. Mimi

White, accompanied Barton Cooley on the piano while he gave forth with a Frank Sinatra rendition of "Night and Day". The freshman girls cooperated to the nth degree.

A gory (thanks for the lipstick) interpretation of the Sicilian invasion was staged by Bill Bartlett, Bob Burns, Jiggs Clayton, Bob Muecke, Bolling Chapel, Harvey Chapel, Henry Kincaid, and Tom Mikula. If not factually correct, it was at least spiritually so. Barbara Grant and Dot Fernebaugh, on piano and "on stage," coordinated with some remarkable results on the "St. Louis Blues." Julian Dunn and Bud Weintraub demonstrated on campus until Saturday what the well-dressed college man will not wear. Martha Massey demonstrated to Red Wood's disconcertion her ability as a drum major. Charlie Baker gave us a good idea of just what does go on in a blackout. Jane Waddington was the object of his intentions. The Honorable Lord Botetourt has paled several shades through the efforts and industry of Charlie and his toothbrush. Jane Waddington also paled slightly through the efforts of the Tribunal and her industry with the washrag and no make-up until Saturday.

Beware, all wayward youngsters. Tribunal will strike again! (To be continued in the next installment.)

Alumni News of Service Men

News from the Alumni this year is strictly from the armed forces. We find that Robert W. Estham, Blackwell O. Holmes and Thomas G. Paynter have received their "Wings of Gold", and were commissioned Ensigns in the Naval Reserve. James J. Bottalico and Rodney M. Coggins have finished training at the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Florida, and have received their "Wings of Gold", and a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Jesse Benjamin Kendler has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army Air Corps at Turner Field recently, while Harry Tanzer is now an Aviation Cadet at the AAF Pilot School at Courtland, Alabama.

The women, too, are doing their share. Mary Elizabeth Brown, now a Lieutenant (jg) in the USNR, received on September 4, a certificate from MIT as one of the first Navy women Aerologists. From Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, comes word that Lieutenant Mary L. Laudenslager has received orders to report for duty at Randolph Field, Texas.

Competition Open For Mademoiselle College Reporters

Mademoiselle magazine is again conducting its fall round-up of College Board members, with emphasis this year on the college woman in her new position as student, career woman, and wife. All women undergraduates who are interested in publication work, advertising, creative writing, reporting, fashion illustrating or design are invited to apply for Board membership.

Members are chosen on competitive basis by means of a definite application procedure. Four assignments must be completed throughout the year with prizes in War Stamps and Bonds for the best products. These assignments include information on all new war activities on campus, snapshots of ideas for use in the magazine, as well as all campus news of fads and fashions.

The ultimate goal of all Board members is a Guest Editorship on Mademoiselle. At the end of each academic year, Mademoiselle selects the fourteen worthiest College Board members on its roster to act as these Guest Editors for the August College issue of the magazine.

Music Department Acquires Three New Instructors

Mr. Allan Sly, head of the Music Department of the College, introduces Mr. Sparticus Monello and Miss Natalie Rosenthal as the new faculty members of that department. Miss Eleanor Adams is the new assistant in the department.

A graduate of Vassar, Miss Rosenthal took her Masters degree in the history of music at the University of Wisconsin, and did special work at Cornell. She has already acquired a large class of piano students.

Mr. Monello, a Harvard man, is both a violinist and composer. He has developed courses in musical composition and theory, and is now reorganizing the college orchestra. During his studies at Harvard, he studied composition with Walton Piston and Aaron Copland.

Miss Adams is a graduate of Oberlin where she was very active in both the work of the Music School and its relation to the College by representing it on the Student Council. She is accompanist for musical organizations here, and classes in modern dance, the latter under the auspices of the Physical Education Department.

This year, in order to accommodate as many of the ASTU men as possible, a large chorus of mixed voices is being formed in which both civilian and army students will be eligible to sing. Rehearsals will be scheduled in the Wren Chapel at 6:45 on Tuesdays and Fridays. The piano and organ accompaniments will be used, and some orchestral instruments as well. The name of this organization will be the William and Mary Chorus.

The College Chapel Choir will continue to sing for the vesper services and college convocations. As the senior musical organization on the campus, membership in the choir is regarded as a distinction in itself. The choir will also form the nucleus of the new chorus.

Mr. Manello's plans for the or-

Faculty and Student Joint Social Planned

One of the big plans up the W.S.C.G.A. sleeve this year is the sponsoring of informal parties for faculty members and students. The first of these get-togethers will be given the evening of November 12 in Barrett living room.

The gatherings are arranged so that guests may meet on a friendly basis, with no worries about back assignments or tests. Both faculty and students will be grouped according to fields of interest, and unusual entertainments and refreshments are planned.

chestra include regular rehearsals Wednesdays and Thursdays at 8:00 in the Music Building. All students playing stringed instruments are urged to join this organization. Wind instruments are being added in proportion to the strings. The rehearsal room of the Music Building is being remodeled to take care of the new orchestral project.

Considerable changes are being made inside the Music Building to provide better accommodations for the added number of pianists who wish to practice, and also for those who wish to play recorded music. The Music Division is working with the library to increase the loan collection of records which is a memorial to the late professors Prentice Hill and Murray Borish.

The Students' Music Club is sponsoring a regular series of Sunday afternoon programs in which new musical acquaintances from the Chaplains' School are to participate. These Sunday afternoon concerts are open to every student, faculty members, and others of the college group. Mr. Sly invites all to take advantage of the various musical activities being organized along with the naval and army talent on campus this year.

New Professor To Teach History

Miss Evelyn Acomb assumed the duties of Acting Assistant Professor in the Department of History yesterday, filling the vacancy left by Mr. Hans Gatske.

A graduate of Wellesley, where she received her A.B. degree, Miss Acomb obtained her Ph.D. at Columbia in 1941. At Wellesley she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Acomb has taught in the New Jersey College for Women and for over a year she has been in the Division of Political Studies in the State Department in Washington.

Here she will instruct freshman history classes and conduct quiz sections.

Dr. Pierre Macy, who has spent the summer in Mexico City, will give a short talk about his interesting experiences there. Some campus talent will be present and refreshments will be served.

Bug Craze Comes; Frosh Out To Kill

By JEAN McCREIGHT

Judging from observation and questions, it seems that bugs have first place this week. "How many have you gotten?" "Have the ants eaten yours?" "Want to go bug-ging this afternoon?" and many such questions are typical of the freshmen (not to mention a few transfers) who consider this bug question—and I quote a very expressive transfer, "Just plain 'PHOOEY!'"

Then of course these little bug maniacs greatly disturb the unfortunate seniors who have to put up with them as roommates. In the opinion of one senior—and again I quote, "It's a hell of a lot of fun to hear my roommate cussing around about the ants!"

For these future biologists, nothing appears important unless it concerns those little smelly, squirming, stinging things called bugs. They have become the only topic of conversation for everyone. In the minds of the freshmen, bugs are things you worry about if you ain't got, worry if you've got, and considering the whole business from an entirely personal point of view—they're just plain worry, whether you've got them or not.

You all realize of course, that bugs aren't just acquired; rather there are certain, specific methods of stealing up on the victims. First of all, there is talk, (in a soothing, purring murmur—never a yell, sharp cry, or words spoken in a rasping tone) then stalk; (take lessons from the Indians—be a W. and M. Indian in three easy lessons—do not talk while hovering over the unfortunate you have selected for a victim, and never shuffle around from one foot to the other in an impatient style); and the third and final bit of advice, pounce—this requires a very excellent technique and in remembering this don't forget that practice makes perfect. Bear in mind that patience will be rewarded and, most important, never lose your temper—(frankly, they just aren't worth it; they're only the deciding factor between passing or failing in Biology).

Lebe Seay, Honor Chairman, Is Active Campus Leader

German Club Pres., Mortar Board Member, Plans Law Career

By MARY RANEY

LEBE SEAY

The freshman says, "Elizabeth Gooch Seay, Who is she? Oh! you mean Lebe Seay. Why I know her!"

Lebe is well known on campus not merely because of her leadership in activities, but also because of her amazing faculty for connecting names and faces. She greets everyone with a smile that is immediately followed by a "Hi, Jane!" and more often than not she stops for a short chat.

Five feet, six inches tall, Lebe has blue eyes and blond hair—"It's the real thing", says Lebe. She hails from Richmond, Virginia, where she participated in a score of activities at Westhampton High School.

Entering William and Mary in the fall of 1940, Lebe led the life of a typical freshman. She pledged Chi Omega sorority and went out for numerous activities including the Y.W.C.A. and the Debate Council. Besides being assistant news editor of the FLAT HAT, and later feature editor, she served two years on both the Royalist and the Colonial Echo. In addition, she has served on the General Cooperative Committee, the Student Assembly, and belongs to the Wythe Law Club.

On the Honor Council her rise to fame began in her sophomore year when she was elected secretary; in her junior year she became chairman.

About the same time Lebe was elected President of the German Club; within a few weeks she was tapped by Mortar Board.

Lebe has no definite plans for the future, but being a law major, she is interested in juvenile court work; or she may continue with her studies in law. However, she thinks she will probably enter a war activity.

At the present Lebe lives in the guest room, first floor, Barrett Hall. Her one weakness is bull sessions. You are likely to find Lebe "just visiting" around midnight. She says, "If anyone wants to talk, just drop by sometime."

A. A. U. W. Accredits William and Mary

The College of William and Mary is now on the accredited list of the National Association of American University Women. Accordingly, all women graduates of the college are again eligible to become members of this association.

Me and My Bunx

MONDAY — Sitting out last week-end, lolling, so to speak, the Bunx and I began meditating on the collapse of the Happy Bunx's major. It just vanished trans-lux to Formosa or some other fifth dimension. All happened because the Happy Bunx gets a guilty conscience when she reads book reviews. Concentration in the field of literature will give her enthusiasm the proper outlet.

TUESDAY — The Other Bunx feels that in institutions like ours there's just no use collecting excuses for not having five hours a month of economic leisure. It may be lack of idle instinct, but the Other Bunx joined the WAMS twice—once on army terms for the many young men in uniform.

WEDNESDAY — The Happy Bunx was full of remote good humor and chit chat today. It seems she met a short-haired ensign from Brooklyn who collected afternoon newspapers. Either from lack of mobility or articulation, she stayed and shared the Youngster's elation. All I can say, is, he must have had very Bright eyes.

THURSDAY — Being feminine

Workers, the Bunx and I plan and plan to make the necessary arrangements to get to bed early every night, and being feminine, we talk far into insufficient sleep. Tonight it was all about the Other Bunx's promising childhood. She went through much displacement—everything from "Winnie-the-Poo" to sacred sacrifices. Her three fancied friends, Mr. and Mrs. Compumper and Freddy McGarlandgreen, always shared in her unquestionably exciting adventures.

FRIDAY — Money matters bother me. How will I ever become a bank president when I keep destroying money, muddle bookkeeping, and losing ration books? I'd like to invent a system whereby I could have a nice little business of my own, carried on by barter. Relieving the world by cremating all human documents, it would become impossible for prankish people to write a ME AND MY BUNX.

SATURDAY — Why should we worry about tomorrow? Saturday isn't over yet.

SUNDAY — Why should we worry?

USO Troupers Perform In Phi Beta

U. S. O. Troup No. Sixty-six entertained a large gathering of Chaplains, Chaplains' Aides, and C.B.'s last Tuesday, October 5, at 8 P. M. in Phi Beta.

One of many such troupes sent out by the Navy, this was under the management of Mr. Harry Eton, long experienced in vaudeville.

The show consisted of five acts, the principal one being a dance and comedy routine done by Mr. Eton and his wife, Dorothy Morey, who also doubles as vocalist. The men were particularly amused by Miss Morey's singing Chihuahua dogs, Chi-chi and Pepe.

Following Morey and Eton, Mort Abrams, seventeen-year-old amateur accordion champion, played several selections. Robin Adair, former dancer with the Chicago Opera Ballet, entertained with both toe and tap numbers. Miss Adair studied under several well known teachers both in New York and Chicago, namely, Edna McRae, Dagovana, and Anton Dolan.

Frank Evans, known as one of the best minstrels in vaudeville, did a hilarious comedy act and dance on roller skates which brought the show to a close. When asked how he liked the show, one sailor said, "It beats the movie stars by a mile—that's the best U. S. O. show I've seen, and I've seen a lot."

Miss Morey and Mr. Eton, who have played with well known dance bands all over the U. S., Canada, and Mexico, have been with the U. S. O. only a few months, and say that it is not only a pleasure, but an honor to entertain the men.

On a regular Navy itinerary, they are touring the Naval districts here on the East Coast, sometimes doing three and four shows a day. As soon as they finish their present engagement, they are to be sent overseas to entertain the men in foreign ports.

Freshmen Queried On Crowded Dorms

By FIFIE ISBELL

How Do You Like Living Three in a Room?

Rub-a-dub-dub, three men in a tub . . . Well, they did it. All (well, almost all) those interviewed were freshmen.

Connie Conway, Chandler: It's true that it's crowded, and does cause some inconveniences, but on the whole, I think it's a lot more fun than just two in a room.

Ginny Townes, Chandler: It's a trifle crowded and it requires a lot more work keeping things straight.

Lois Stepp, Barrett: It's not what I thought it would be. I really find it a lot of fun.

Glass Dodd, Monroe: I like it very well. Haven't found any inconveniences. I like it better than I thought I would.

Jacqueline Wilson, Chandler: Terrible, awfully crowded.

Mattie Williams, first floor maid in Chandler: It's harder to clean the rooms, so many things lying around.

Dulcie Daniels, Chandler: I personally like it, although it's hard to study sometimes.

Lin Hagood, Sigma Pi House: It's all right, only you get kicked around at night by the fellow in the lower bunk.

Jeanne Lamb, Chandler: Be awfully crowded if I didn't have the upper bunk, but I have lots more room up there.

Student Elections October 26th decided that the Committee on Elections, which is constituted to call special elections to fill vacancies in class and student body offices, should be set up to meet the present crisis in student government organization arising when 19 officers did not return. Since only 13 out of 34 Assembly members are now enrolled in school, no meeting of that body could be called as the quorum requirements could not be met. The Senate is the only constitutional body qualified to take charge of the situation.

Nation's Problems

What do you think of the government's extending for an indefinite period the validity of the No. 18 shoe coupons?

"We will probably get only two pairs of shoes a year."

—JANE SALTZMAN, senior.

"I think we all better get bicycles — save our shoes."

—BARBARA HILL, freshman.

"Unfortunately for people that wear a lot of shoes. All right with me, I haven't bought a pair of shoes this year."

—BRUCE McCULLY, Professor of History.

"It's entirely too long. They ought to shorten it."

—CHARLES CUMBEA, freshman.

"It doesn't make a damn bit of difference to me—I get my shoes from the Army."

JIM PRICE, A. S. T. U. student.

The Committee on Elections is normally composed of the presidents of the four classes and two members of the Assembly appointed at large by the President. With the offices of President of the Student Body and President of the Senior Class both unfilled, Prickett Carter, vice-president of the Senior class, presided. The president and vice-president of the junior class not being in school, Joan Parker, secretary, represented the junior class. Jan Freer, sophomore, is the one bona fide class president who is now in college. The president of the freshman class is not yet elected.

"Good heavens! I haven't the vaguest idea. Of course, I'm against shoes. As Gerard Manley Hopkins said, 'Nor can foot feel, being shod.' Therefore I'm against shoes. They're a symbol of mechanistic civilization. We should make our own. When the individual shoemaker makes his own shoes then I'd advocate the return of shoes or until social consciousness increases to such a degree that the unit worker realizes his importance to cooperative living. I'm against shoes until this happens!"

—JOHN LOUIS BONN, Navy Chaplain.

(Ed. note—We noticed that Mr. Bonn was wearing shoes.)

Papooses Gird For Strong Navy B's

On the Inside
With

ECHOES FROM CARY FIELD

Displaying a versatile attack, the Papooses looked like a real ball club as they opened their season Saturday. The first half was even, as the W. and M. offensive was stopped, and Raimondi's aeriels went awry. But once Benny got over the jitters, he sparked the Frosh to four touchdowns with his tricky running and brilliant passing. Time and time again, when the Army combine rushed in to halt the slashes of Preston McIlwaine and Harvey Chappell, Benny would coolly step back and rifle strikes to two sticky-fingered ends, Warren Galbreath and Dave Saunders.

It looked as though both teams would leave the field at the half without scoring. But with just twenty seconds left to go, Raimondi arched a perfect pass to Dave Saunders in the end zone. Incidentally this was Saunders' first game at end, and the Petersburg boy did a fine job.

McIlwaine pulverized the Army line like a General Sherman tank. In one drive, he bulled his way for 33 yards in five tries before Raimondi passed to Saunders for the score.

Early in the half Harvey Chappell and Bill Jolly were injured in a freak play. Both attempted to tackle Sideo on an end sweep and bumped heads. Two severe cuts over the left eye resulted.

Coach Umbach's soldiers were no pushover, however. Their backs, especially Cardarelli and Sideo, ran well; and Kidder backed up the line magnificently.

The third touchdown was a fine play. With the ball at midfield, Raimondi faded back to pass, but changed his mind and began to run as the Army linemen were blocked-out. This drew in the defensive backfield. Sensing this, Benny leaped high into the air and rifled a 30-yard pass to Galbreath who was standing on the 20 with no Army player near him. Galbreath didn't even have to run hard to score.

BEAT NAVY

It will be different this week, however, when the Frosh invade Annapolis. The Middies are tough and experienced. Though comparative scores mean little, they beat Curtis Bay Coast Guard 22-7, while Richmond's Spiders were extended to beat the guardsmen, 13-0. This means that the Papooses will be playing a fine club that doesn't like the taste of defeat.

Umbach Announces Scoring System for Men's Intramurals

Intramural athletics will be divided into three groups, it was announced by Coach Umbach. Division I will include Touch Football, Soccer, Basketball, Volleyball, and Softball. Division II: Track, Swimming, Cross Country, and Obstacle. Division III: Ping Pong, Tennis, Handball, Badminton, Boxing, Wrestling, and Horse-shoes.

The scoring for each division is as follows:

- 5 points for winning a game.
- 1 point for competing and not winning.
- 1 point per place from standing at the end of season, i.e., 1 point for last place, 2 points for next to last, etc., leading team to be number of points according to number of places in the league.
- 10 points shall be awarded the winner of inter-divisional games.
- 5 points shall be awarded the loser of inter-divisional games.
- In case a tie is called, each team shall receive one-half

Seven Scheduled For Frosh -150's

Coach Voyles has announced an attractive schedule for the Indians' gridiron season of 1943; the Papooses have been assigned three games, and the 150 lb. team, four.

The freshman team will play its first home game October 23, as host to the Randolph-Macon eleven.

The complete schedule follows:
Freshman Team vs.:
Randolph - Macon, at home, October 23
Newport News Apprentice, at home, October 29
Newport News Apprentice, at home, November 11.

150-lb. Team vs.:

Navy, at Annapolis, October 16
Newport News Apprentice, at Newport News, October 22
Newport News Apprentice, at home, November 6
Newport News Apprentice, at home, November 13.

Frosh Down Army, 25-0, Tribe To Meet Tar Eleven As Underdog Sat.

William and Mary's freshmen gridiron warriors sputtered and coughed for almost two quarters, but found the proper carburetor adjustment and rolled to a 25-0 triumph over a game band of Army A.S.T.U.'s on Saturday.

After a slow, first quarter, and equally slow second, the Braves hit the warpath. Raimondi and McIlwaine alternated at the Army line, and from their own twenty-eight moved to the Army twenty-five. With only twenty seconds to go, Raimondi faded to his right and pitched a beauty to Saunders in the end zone. The half ended as the conversion point after touchdown failed. William and Mary 6 - Army 0.

The Tribe continued its offensive ways and, after the second half kick off, drove from their own forty-eight to a touchdown in seven plays. Raimondi's passes hit Galbreath twice for seventeen and ten yards, and then Benny tossed an eight-yard pay-off pitch to C. Burgwyn for a touchdown. The Army, now on the short end, never quit and, with Sideo and De Risi alternating, drove to the Indian twenty. Here the Braves held and took the ball on downs. With the ball in the shadow of his own goal post, McIlwaine, on the third down, punted forty-eight yards to the Army 39 as the third period ended. William and Mary led, 12-0.

Early in the fourth quarter Army punted and Raimondi raced up to the William and Mary thirty-two. The Indians were off again. After a short pass, Raimondi faded to his left and passed the ball thirty-nine yards into the arms of Galbreath, who ran unmolested for the score. B. Chappell converted. Then the Indians put on another goalward drive

R. N. McCRAY

McCray Coaches Freshmen In 7th Year At W. & M.

When the William and Mary freshmen open their season next week, they will possess much of the knowledge and experience imparted to them by their coach, Reuben N. McCray. Their tall, broad-shouldered mentor is well versed in the art of football and the handling of young men.

McCray started off on the gridiron in 1926 when he attended Kentucky Wesleyan College, and he continued to follow the pigskin for his full four years there. He held down a backfield position on the varsity first team his last two years, turning in many fine performances. Baseball also attracted this versatile athlete, and he continued in this field until he attained recognition for his play in the American league. In rounding out his athletic career, he played basketball in high school and he was voted the center berth on the All-American team. His will to win sent him to the Stag Tournament in Chicago, where he thrilled the crowds with a spectacular showing.

After his graduation from college, he wanted to keep in touch with the sports world, and this desire led him to take a coaching position at Tennessee Wesleyan College, where he progressed until he was made head coach and later athletic director of the school. The record of six championship teams in eight seasons speaks for his achievements as a football coach; as for basketball, his boys won the conference crown five times. It was also due to his coaching ability that his gridiron team walked away with National Junior College honors in 1936.

It was then that he came to William and Mary to be backfield mentor under head coach Carl Voyles. In this capacity, he has been instrumental in turning out many of the triumphant Indian teams. Along with the duties of Concluding two weeks of hard practice with Saturday's warm-up game, William and Mary's "Papooses" prepared to get down to brass tacks for next week's game with the Middies of the Naval Academy.

The Indians expect plenty of trouble from the "Tar" eleven, and Coach R. N. McCray will have to work long and hard to iron out the Tribe's mistakes of last week. If comparative scores are taken into consideration, the locals will go into the game at Annapolis as the underdogs. Injuries plague the squad this week, but McCray will most likely start the boys against Navy that played so well last week. Dave Saunders of Petersburg will be in at one end with Warren Galbreath of Newark, N. J., stationed at the other terminal. To back up these two boys McCray has capable replacements in Col Burgwyn and big Paul Reynolds, a 6 foot 3 inch lad from Danville. Holding down the tackle positions will be Art Foussikis and "Baldy" Campbell. Flanking the center post held by Bill Sydnor or Dick Mattox, will be Doc White, another of the Petersburg contingent, and Tom Mikula, a tough customer from Johnstown, Pa. Capable reserves for the line are Austin Wright, a local boy, who may do most of the Indian kicking off, Dave Garrison, and Jake Grenadier.

The backfield is one of the strong points of the team. In the secondary will be three boys from Petersburg and one from New York. Bowling Chappell, a fine kicker, pass receiver and an elusive runner, will hold down one half back post while Bill Jolley, a capable blocker and former high school center, will be at the other. In the fullback slot will be Preston McIlwaine, a fine kicker, and hard runner. Rounding out the backfield, at quarter back will be

For Women Only

By EDYTHE MARSH

Since there are no varsity teams this year, intramurals will play a far more important part in our athletic program than in former years. All women students will be eligible to participate—yes—even those proud wearers of varsity letters. Competition, no doubt, will be strong among the sororities and dormitories. Tennis will start the season with the first matches to be played Monday, October 17th. The turnout for practice has been good—the freshman class especially showing a number of promising players. Both this and the fact that most of the members of last year's varsity team have returned, prove that there will be several close and very interesting matches.

Sunday afternoon the Athletic Council met with the Intramural Representatives at Miss Barksdale's home to discuss this season's schedule. Plans for the tennis matches were revised from last year's and suggestions for tournaments in other sports were given.

It was decided upon by vote of the Intramural Representatives to have a two-league tennis tournament, as in former years. That is, the sororities will play against each other and the three dormitories will have competition among themselves. The winners of both these leagues will play to determine the intramural champion. This year a team must consist of at least four players; the two singles matches to be played by different members but with the option that any of the four may represent the team in doubles. One set will complete an individual match and each match won will be scored as one point. In order to qualify for a team, a player must have had at least two hours of practice work this week. However, those who are now taking tennis in physical education may count class hours as practice. Each team must supply its own balls and provide scorekeepers. The schedule of matches will be made up this week and posted in all dormitories and sorority houses.

This Thursday, there will be tennis practice from 4-6 for all those playing in tennis intramurals. Some coaching in team work will be given by Miss Barksdale and all players will be given a chance to play against their opponents.

The Intramural heads who represent a team, have the responsibility of selecting those who wish to participate in the various sports. Those chosen for the '43-'44 season are as follows:

Jefferson Tony Lester
Chandler Ricky Strumminger
Barrett Barbara Black,
Janet O'Donohue
Alpha Chi Sue Lamb
Gamma Phi Dee Dumas
Phi Mu Jean Nelson
Pi Beta Phi Maizie Tressler
Tri Delta Lelia Ann Avery
Kappa Delta Peggy Burdick
Chi Omega Flossie Metius

Gamma Frances Butler

Theta Suzie Hartnell

For all you ardent swimmers, there will be plunge periods in Jefferson pool every Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30 and from 9:15 to 9:45 on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights. Later in the year, other periods will be announced. Incidentally, showing the boys the tricks of lugging the oval, he has scouted rival teams. In addition he has done much to influence outstanding prep school athletes in their choice of William and Mary.

When asked whether, sports would be continued in college, he replied in the affirmative. He said that all activities should be carried on as far as possible, as the training received in these fields would be most useful to young men entering the armed services.

Coach McCray's ability is far from being limited only to athletics. He is in charge of the War Work Plan, which enables many boys to meet the necessary college expenses. One of the faculty, who is familiar with Mr. McCray's work, said that he could tell how a boy was getting along in school merely by seeing him walk across the campus. This keen foresight enables him to be of great service in advising the individual boy.

you gals who are worrying about this year's bathing cap problem will find a new type of cap on sale at a leading department store—inexpensive, too.

"Nothing to do on Saturday afternoons?"—Your worries will soon be over when Jefferson Gym will be equipped with badminton and ping pong sets. Other recreation will also be provided so you can count on an afternoon of fun—bring your date along if you wish. Tennis intramurals beginning Monday, October 17th, will run for two weeks, weather permitting. Matches are to be played in the afternoons starting at 3:30. Groomed for replacements for the first team backs are Joe Hall, another Williamsburg boy, who may get the wingback call very often; Billy Peake, whose punting has marked him for future use; Harvey Chappell, another fine runner; Jess Jackson, a replacement for Raimondi as signal caller; and Bill Martin.

All in all the squad stacks up very well as compared with other Indian first year elevens, and with the squad working hard every day they can easily develop into a fine eleven, despite their difficult schedule.

Disc Data

By SAMMY BANKS

Greetings, Gates! Let's congregate around "this here now" pillar and take a look-see into what the music and entertainment world has to offer. This column will be primarily on the subject of records and swing bands, but we will also feel free to let you in on any other types of entertainment that we think you will be interested in.

Everyone who is at all interested in records has known that for the last year and two months Mr. James Petrillo, the president of the American Federation of Musicians, has ordered his union members to refrain from making recordings. This decree not only disrupted the collections and pleasures of we who are knocked out by a nice hot platter, but it also caused anguish in the hearts of those who desired to collect and listen to the most famous classical works of the masters, which were put on wax by the Messrs. Stowkowski, Kostelanitz, et al, since these classical perfectionists are members of the A.F.M. as are the Messrs. James, Dorsey, Ellington, Barnet, et al. But now comes the good news. In the last two weeks, Mr. Petrillo and the A.F.M. have settled their grievances with at least one recording company, Decca, Inc., and, due to this, all other companies will have to join the parade and come to terms with Mr. P. as soon as possible. This will be necessary because the various competitors of Decca, such as Victor, Columbia, and Capitol, can not allow Decca to present new recordings to the public while they must sit back and be satisfied with offering repressings of old recordings.

Although this record ban has been in effect for over a year we have still had many records that were "new" to most people brought before the public in those months. Some excellent repressings of old recordings have been offered by Victor and Columbia. Victor reissued a solid Duke Ellington number entitled "Don't Get Around Much Any More," backed by an Ellingtonia masterpiece, "Cottontail". The No. 1 side, "Don't Get—", is an old recording of Ellington's written by his son, Mercer. It was originally called "The Never No Lament" but never did reach any amount of popularity, as many of the terrific songs of the Duke are not appreciated by most of the people interested in jazz.

Victor also reissued another record of the Duke's in "A Slip Of the Lip" with "Sentimental Lady" backing it up. Both of these records are typical of the Ellington ensemble as Johnny Hodges offers some superb alto sax work on both sides. We hear a vocal solo by Ray Nance on "Slip" which he follows up with some very "Armstrongy" trumpet work. Ray is by no means as good as "Ole Satchmo" but he does offer some excellent horn work here.

Turning to the new issues of the Columbia Recording Corp., we find that they have come out with a Goodman tune entitled "Mission to Moscow". I don't know what is on the other side and, if it is anything like "M2M", I don't care. Columbia and Goodman made this record before the ban was in effect and they have held it back until this time. My candid opinion of this pressing is that they should have held it back a little longer, say about ten years or so. It is really a shame to listen to Benny's work on this session and then compare it with his terrific stuff on some of his old knock-down-drag-out affairs, like "Good Enough to Eat", for instance. Now where is a record.

Y.W.C.A.Plans War Fund Drive Bond Bazaar Begins October 18

Y.W.C.A. activities for the coming year, while still nebulous, promise to afford fun and entertainment for everyone on the campus under the able leadership of Marian Ross.

Hallowe'en eve a gala Bond Bazaar will get underway in the sunken garden, with booths and games of chance operated by every group in the college. War Stamps will be the only means of exchange, and the college expects to make a record in the selling of them.

Thanksgiving chapel services will be conducted, and baskets will be assembled with food for those less fortunate than ourselves.

Christmas plans include the selling of Tuberculosis Seals, and the forming of groups of carolers.

More Big and Little Sister activities are in the offing, and many more seasonal events are being planned.

Those wishing to join the "Y" are urged to attend the first mass meeting on Thursday, October 14, at 7:45 P. M., in Washington 200. Dues are only twenty-five cents a semester, and meetings are held monthly.

Williamsburg will launch a city-wide campaign to raise its share of the National War Fund beginning October 18, according to an announcement by Dr. H. M. Stryker, Chairman of the local campaign.

Assisting Dr. Stryker in the drive for $8,500, which is the quota for Williamsburg, will be a group of more than fifty citizens who will make a house to house canvass during the two weeks in which Williamsburg is to concentrate its campaign.

Associated with Dr. Stryker as Co-Chairman of the local campaign will be Mr. W. L. Person. Members of the Executive Committee include Mayor Channing M. Hall, Mr. John E. Pomfret, president of the College of William and Mary; Mr. V. M. Geddy, first vice-president of Colonial Williamsburg; Dr. Joseph E. Barrett, superintendent, Eastern State Hospital; Ashton Dovell, C. C. Jackson, B. I. Jensen, C. F. Marsh, Faber Mershon, B. W. Norton, T. F. Rogers, R. M. Ustry, Carl M. Voyles and Wise Skillman. H. D. Carpenter, principal of Bruton Heights School, will be in charge of the solicitation of colored citizens.

Between Companies A and B an impressive color guard marched, flags unfurled and waving smartly in the brisk evening breeze. Privates Kiely, O'Grady, Gostin, and Scheidt made up the color escort, and the flags were carried by Privates Friedman, Tyler, and Cohen.

Precision was the password of the day, and instead of marching to the usual "Hup, two, three, four", the band played "The Washington Post March."

Credit must be given to adjutant Lt. Pfister, who spent long hours supervising the drill of the men. Their cooperation and his excellent supervision made the review almost unsurpassable in military excellence, and unforgettable by all those who witnessed it.

Navy To Graduate; Choir Broadcasts

The Navy unit on the campus will bid farewell to the graduating class of 18-43 of the Navy Training Corps and Welfare Specialists on Sunday, October 24. Commencement services will be held at 7 o'clock in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

Last Sunday morning at 8:45 the third of a series of six broadcasts by the Chaplain's Choir was heard over C.B.S. from coast to coast. These broadcasts have been well received by the public.

Lieutenant Commander Roy E. Bishop spoke at the regular Chapel service last Wednesday evening.

"JEEPERS, DAD! I'M WRITING UNCLE SAM'S HANDSOMEST FLYER AND MY PEN CONKS OUT. THINK IT CAN BE FIXED?"

"SEARCH ME, PAT. PENS AND REPAIR PARTS ARE SCARCE. WHY DIDN'T YOU PROTECT IT WITH PARKER QUINK? IT HAS SOLV-X IN IT!"

Pen shortage grows!

To keep your pen writing...use Quink with solv-x!

DON'T expect to replace your pen if it fails now! Production of all pens—especially of first-choice brands—has been sharply reduced by Government order. Repair parts, too, are scarce!

Why not let Parker Quink provide the "ounce of prevention"? This ink alone has the magic ingredient, solv-x.

FOR V...—MAIL "Micro-film Black." Parker Quink in "Micro-film Black" photographs perfectly! It is jet black—ideal for every use. Quink comes in 7 permanent colors: Micro-film Black, Blue-Black, Royal Blue, Green, Violet, Brown, Red. 2 washable colors: Black, Blue. Family size, 25¢. Other sizes, 15¢ and up.

MAKE YOUR DOLLARS FIGHT—BUY WAR BONDS NOW!

PARKER Quink

THE ONLY INK CONTAINING SOLV-X

Solv-x roots out the causes of most pen failures. It fights off the metal corrosion and rubber rot always caused by highly acid ink. It ends clogging and gumming... cleans your pen as it writes!

For steel pens, too, Quink is ideal. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin, and Toronto, Canada.

SOLV-X in every bottle of Quink... protects pens in 5 ways!

1. Protects rubber...lengthens the life of sac or diaphragm.
2. Dissolves sediment and gum left by other inks. Cleans your pen as it writes.
3. Prevents clogging of feed.
4. Safeguards base metal parts...
5. Assures quick starting and even flow at all times.

New Responsibilities

Plans have been formulated and are getting underway for the setting up of a collegiate chapter of the Red Cross here on William and Mary campus. A petition has been sent to the National Headquarters for official permission; meanwhile a faculty sponsor is being sought to complete the requirements necessary for National recognition.

The establishment of collegiate chapters of the Red Cross was begun after the outbreak of the war. This movement has been spreading from campus to campus all over the United States. It has finally reached William and Mary. Two campus organizations, the War Council and the Y. W. C. A., will assist in its organization, although it will actually be a separate unit in itself. The local Red Cross will assist with supplies. Sunshine Trumbo, chairman, and Eleanor Harvey, vice-chairman, will supervise the work done by this group.

The program for the year will include rolling of bandages, home nursing, First Aid, knitting of afghans, sweaters, etc. It is probable that some blood donations might be given through this Red Cross unit.

This is one of the biggest steps taken on this campus toward actual responsibility in aiding the war effort. The War Council, to be sure, paved the way for any war activity whatsoever on the William and Mary campus; but the establishing of a unit of a National organization here carries with it even greater responsibilities as well as added opportunities for student endeavor.

It is only through student interest and cooperation that this unit can be a success and carry on the work for which it was created. This must not be thought of as simply one other activity to join and maybe devote a couple hours a month to; this is a serious business. Much good can be accomplished through such an organization but the fulfillment of this good depends on you, the students. Here is your chance.

A.S.T.U. Joins Staff

The Army is joining the ranks of the Student Body; or, rather, the A.S.T.U. men are beginning to pitch in and help start the ball rolling toward the aim of friendship and cooperation. This coming week will see Army students added to the staff of the FLAT HAT, and in future issues, news from civilian and uniformed students will be integrated.

What we have been needing since the regular term opened has been, we believe, a sense of comradeship, a meeting ground on interests which would avoid, as much as possible, splitting the William and Mary campus into two distinct groups with only a nodding acquaintanceship between them. If minor differences such as uniforms instead of sport jackets are forgotten, members of the Unit and civilian students should find no necessity for barricading themselves behind locked doors either of resentment toward the new order of this year or resentment toward those whose school and schooling were not changed because of the war.

The FLAT HAT hopes to gain the support and interest of the men of the A.S.T.U. Copies of the FLAT HAT will be distributed to Army men through their Headquarters, and requests to their officers for additional copies will bring them more papers for distribution. The success of our cooperative enterprise in putting out the FLAT HAT depends upon its reception by the A.S.T.U.

There are many pleas being made for the Army to enter into other campus activities, such as, for example, the glee club and chorus work. The fact that these pleas have been received with enthusiastic "yeas" bodes well for the development of good campus spirit. In fact, the members of the A.S.T.U. sing so enthusiastically that, we hear, some students felt constrained to give them a sunrise program in return for their efforts. Don't take it to heart, fellows. It was well meant. If we can continue to laugh at ourselves and with each other, this year ought to be a good one!

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

It was with a great deal of pleasure that one of our members received a copy of the FLAT HAT last week from a thoughtful co-ed, but there are certain things which greatly injured the pride of any true William and Mary man.

Primarily and foremost we take odds with Miss Sally J. Hoag when she, and the editors, made the unexcusable mistake of making the statement that the prized and hard earned Indian monogram sweaters were described as "orange" with a big W and M "plastered" on it.

Now we ask you—is there any possible excuse for such a boner? It seems to us that any person, even though a Freshman, would know that William and Mary sweaters are green and not orange! The truly painful part was the use of the word plastered!

We are proud of those sweaters and prefer to think of the letters being sewed on in a neat manner and not "plastered" on someone's chest, as in certain other colleges in the state.

We realize that most of your space will be taken up with items from the special Army boys, although the true William and Mary spirit rides with the Navy, we shall close. We feel certain that boners of such magnitude will not be permitted to occur again. All we ask is that you keep the true Indian light shining as in previous years.

Whether Good Or Bad, Fraternity Issue Settled

By JERRY HYMAN

Fraternity houses are a thing of the past at William and Mary. No longer will a large percentage of the male population reside and eat in the various houses. Instead the fraternities will be limited to Lodges or meeting places. Whether this plan is a good one or a bad one is open to dispute. It can not be disputed, however, that the issue is at last settled. For more than a year now the future of fraternities on this campus has been in doubt. The issue has been a smoldering volcano, bursting forth with fireworks occasionally, then relapsing into a state of inactivity, only to burst forth again on the slightest provocation.

At the University of Virginia, there has been much laughter at the situation of the fraternities here. It was in reality the situation there which prompted Governor Darden to open his campaign against "social snobbishness and exclusiveness." To date, there have been no reforms there. But now there is much talk of preventing men from joining fraternities at the University until their second year, and of making all freshmen and sophomores live and eat in college dormitories and dining halls. Perhaps, he who laughs last will laugh hardest.

The sororities at William and Mary have fared amazingly well under the new system. It appears the Governor is not so much interested in them. They have been unofficially told that if they do not become involved in the fraternity affair, in all likelihood they will be left alone. Who can doubt what course they will take?

It is the hope of all interested persons on the campus that steps will be taken immediately to begin construction as soon as the war is over, so that there will not be a delay of several years before they can be occupied. The construction will involve the outlay of approximately fifty thousand dollars according to present plans. According to the announcement made to the student body, each lodge will be rented for a very reasonable sum, so that no unnecessary burden will be placed on any fraternity. There has been much criticism of similar programs for fraternities at other colleges on the ground that excessive rentals have been charged. This danger, at least, will be eliminated if present plans are carried through.

If many of the potential sore spots can be eliminated, if the co-operation of the various fraternities can be secured, then this move may be, as President Pomfret phrases it, the beginning of a new era for William and Mary Fraternities. But if the bickering continues, if the action of the Board of Visitors is not viewed as a fait accompli, or if any additional restrictions are placed on fraternities, then the fraternities may find themselves in for tough sledding.

Meanwhile, "What's done is done."

This Collegiate World

The alarm clock situation in the nation is admittedly bad these days, but at Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minn., it was more than critical for one coed.

B. J. Lundquist's alarm clock simply refused to run and so she toted it down to the local jeweler.

Imagine her embarrassment when the jeweler asked her if she had ever tried winding it, and, with a twist of the wrist, the timepiece started in ticking again.

When internal combustion lab began to pall on them recently, a couple of V-12 seniors at M.I.T. walked outside, pulled out their sliderules and stop-watches and amused themselves by calculating the walking cadence of female passersby. They also clocked a couple of army officers at 119.5 steps per minute. This figure compares favorably with the regulation 120.

Confused System Worries Columnist; How About You?

By Marge Retzke

Is our system confused? It would appear so. The Elections Committee, or we should say an Elections Committee, has finally acted. Practically up to the point of its acting, few people knew how or when it would act. Elections were obviously put aside for a week or so, while other College projects were carried out, although it would seem that the reconditioning of a sadly depleted student government might have held some priority. (Priority crept into this column last week too.)

The General Cooperative Committee which constitutionally is to meet "at least once a month during the regular college session" has been lost in the shuffle. The Senate represents the Assembly on this committee. The Senate cannot operate until class officers are elected to fill vacancies, and evidently class offices will not be filled until Assembly elections are over. The rule in the Student Government Constitution which says, "All members of the Senate with the exceptions of the officers of the Freshman Class shall be elected at least two weeks prior to the date set by the Assembly for the election of its new members. No member of the Senate shall be eligible for election to this assembly for the same term," implies that at any time members of the Senate should be elected before members of the Assembly.

The Student Assembly By-Laws state that "A regular meeting of the Student Assembly shall be held the first Tuesday of each month of the academic year." We assume that the reason nothing happened that first Tuesday is because there were too few members left on the Assembly to make a quorum. We find ourselves wondering if those members who were left missed having that monthly meeting, and whether they had any ideas of doing anything to make sure that next month's first Tuesday sees action?

Another vital organ of student government is the Publications Committee. The publications have been functioning. The fact that they have been doing so without the simultaneous functioning of their supervisory committee is, we suppose, just part of the system. The student chairman of this committee is elected by the Student Assembly (what Assembly?), as is one of its faculty members. Another faculty member to serve on this Publications Committee is elected by the Student Activities Committee. And with the Student Activities Committee, we give up. Is our system confused? Does anyone care?
